

CALL TO ALL PEOPLE U.S. TO PRAY FOR RUSSIA

NEW YORK, July 9.—While the American government and the people of the United States are making every effort to render aid to the new republic of Russia, and following the announcement of Henry P. Davison, of the American Red Cross, of the activities of that organization, the following call has been issued:

"The American mission to Russia, under the leadership of the Hon. Elfric Root, who is greatly gratified with the situation of affairs, has signified its desire for any aid that the people of the United States can give it. In the light of this it has been suggested that an appropriate and effective spiritual service for a people as distinctively religious as the Russians would be a universal intercession on their behalf to Almighty God to the effect that the great confusion in Russia may result in some form of governmental authority which shall assure to the people of that vast empire an orderly and enduring guaranty of peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety."

"To this end the religious people of America of all sects, denominations and faiths, are invited in their houses of worship, on Sunday, the 14th and 15th of July to invoke the blessing of heaven upon the Russian people in their endeavor."

To meet this occasion, representatives of the various religious bodies being invited to consider the matter have joined in approval of such an appeal and earnestly hope that an appeal of religious thought throughout the United States will share with them in the belief that prayer for Russia is timely and desirable, and therefore take action."

The call is signed by Cardinal Gibbons, the senior American cardinal of the Catholic church; Bishop David H. Erwin and Charles S. Burch of the Episcopal church; Bishop Luther E. Wilson of the Methodist church; the Rev. Dr. Frank M. North, president of the federal council of churches of Christ; the Rev. Dr. Charles S. MacFarland, secretary of the federal council of churches of Christ; the Rev. Dr. J. Wolcott Chapman, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church; the Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dusen, William P. Merrill and George Alexander, Presbyterians; the Rev. Dr. Walter Laidlaw, secretary of the New York Convention of Churches; Rabbi Herbert S. Goldstein, Orthodox Hebrew; the Rev. Dr. Stephen S. Wise, Jewish Free Synagogue; the Rev. Dr. J. E. Nevensnyder, Lutheran; the Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Dayton, moderator of the Congregational council; the Rev. Dr. S. E. Litchfield, secretary of the National Publishing society and the Rev. Drs. Charles A. Eaton and J. H. Randall, Baptists.

Great Victories For Russians in Galicia --- Capture Over 25,000 Austro-Germans

Enemy Line West of Stanislaw Broken —Russian Cavalry Pursuing Retreating Germans—Halicz, Gateway of Lemberg, Doomed

New and powerful blows are being struck by the Russians in Galicia. Apparently they have broken the Austro-German line west of Stanislaw, south of Halicz, as today's official report from Petrograd not only reports important gains for the Russians in the Stanislaw area but declares the Russian cavalry is pursuing the retreating enemy. This pursuit already has reached the Lutska river.

Halicz, the gateway to Lemberg from the south, seems doomed to fall speedily unless the Russian onslaught is quickly stopped. A Russian push northwest from Stanislaw would result in Halicz being hemmed in on three sides.

Capture 25,000 Germans
The renewed Russian onslaught in this sector brought with it not only additional territory but 7000 prisoners and 48 guns, including a dozen large caliber pieces. The total Russian capture of men in the present remarkable offensive is mounting rapidly and now is in excess of 25,000.

Continue Drive in Lemberg
North of the Stanislaw area Gen. Brusiloff is holding fast to his newly won positions in the vicinity of Brzezany and near Kuty, where his troops are well placed for a continuation of the drive upon Lemberg along converging railway lines.

Austro-German counter attacks here have failed to shake the Russian possession of this valuable terrain.

Along British Front
There is little but local fighting along the British front in northern France, but further down the line the Germans are giving the French little rest. After attack is being launched by the crown prince in desperate attempts to shake the French from their positions along the Chemin-des-Dames. There was another such drive last night at Pantheon but the others that have preceded it the effort was unsuccessful.

French Retake Trenches
Meanwhile such trenches as the Germans were able to retain after their repulse in the Aisne region were wrested from them in greater part by a brilliant counter-offensive started by the French.

Germans Admit Russian Gains
BERLIN, July 9, via London.—In a renewal of their attack at Stanislaw, the key to Lemberg, Russian troops have gained ground. This is announced in the statement issued from German headquarters last night. The statement also tells of a German advance along the Aisne front in France. The text reads:

"Along the Chemin des Dames, south-east of Pargny-Flahin, an attack brought us considerable gain of territory and more than 700 prisoners."

"Western theatre: The Russians again attacked at Stanislaw and gained ground."

SUNDAY WAS LOWELL DAY AT ROCKINGHAM

Presentations galore, interesting remarks by Mayor James E. O'Donnell, a delightful band concert and a rearing of acrobatics marked what would be called "Lowell Day" at Rockingham park yesterday, when hundreds of men and women from this city, headed by the United States Cartridge Co.'s band and the chief executive of the city, invaded the camping grounds of the Fourth regiment of the Reserved Engineers corps.

The weather was ideal, the ride to the famous fair grounds was most enjoyable, while the pure and fresh air of the country was very invigorating. Hundreds of visitors journeyed to the camping grounds, while numerous automobiles served as a transportation medium.

In the early afternoon the members of Company E, which is in command of Capt. Frank C. Pelletier, former war master at Lowell, and which counts about 20 Lowell men in its ranks, stationed themselves in the park at Salem Depot, N. H., and awaited the arrival of the visitors. Mayor O'Donnell, accompanied by Mrs. O'Donnell, made the trip by auto and when they arrived at Salem Depot a line of parade was formed under the direction of Sergt. Richard A. Skane of Billerica. The parade included the band, members of the company, a large delegation of members of the Knights of Pythias of Lowell and numerous residents of this city. To the strains of music furnished by the band, the paraders marched to the camping grounds, where they were given an

Big Explosion Followed By Fire at Mare Island Navy Yard in San Francisco Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Two storehouses at the Mare Island navy yard, on San Francisco bay, were destroyed by an explosion this morning. Whether any lives were lost has not been determined.

Fire Follows Explosion
Twelve of fifteen magazines were badly damaged by the explosion, the force of which broke thousands of windows in Vallejo half a mile away. Fire started in the wrecked buildings and desperate efforts were made to prevent its spread to other buildings where explosives are stored.

Among the injured were Lieut. C. B. Bird, United States marine corps and two other men, residents of Pasadena, who were passengers on the ship Captain. A ferry boat operating between South Vallejo and Vallejo Junction. They suffered from shock and were cut by flying glass. Although the boat was in midstream about two miles from the scene of the explosion, all the doors and windows were blown out.

Orders that no person be allowed to leave Mare Island were issued by Capt. Harry George, commandant of the navy yard. No official announcement as to the number of casualties has been made.

Mare Island is just across a narrow channel from Vallejo.

REVISION OF RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Revision of the house rivers and harbors appropriation bill virtually was completed today by the senate commerce committee and will be reported tomorrow with an increase from the house total of $7,000,000.

The provision for the so-called Newlands commission to make a general investigation of waterways was radically changed by the committee and is expected to furnish the principal contention in the senate. Instead of a commission of cabinet officers and army engineers the committee provides for a commission without cabinet representation, composed of two army officers, two hydraulic engineers and two civilians.

It is hard to realize that this popular school executive who a few nights ago appeared at the graduation exercises apparently as well as at any time in his life, and perhaps never more deeply interested in the work of the high school, has passed from the scenes of life and from the ever growing activities of school work in which he filled a high

DEATH OF COLE
BOSTON, July 9.—In an attempt to fix responsibility for the death recently from acid burns of William Cole, formerly of St. Louis, whose wife, Mrs. Cleopatra Cole, was similarly injured, the grand jury today examined 16 witnesses in forty minutes and announced that the inquiry was concluded.

Police authorities had broadened the investigation, but it was not expected, the investigation having been by District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier, largely because of published reports concerning the manner of Cole's death.

Mrs. Cole had not sufficiently recovered to appear before the grand jury but she has informed the police that Cole, in a fit of anger, attempted to throw vitriol on her and that both were burned in the struggle that followed. The version of the affair has been accepted by the police until a medical examiner reported that homicide was alleged.

District Attorney Pelletier said today that Mrs. Cole escaped death through the use by physicians of the modern French method of wax treatment for vitriol burns.

position and endeared himself to the position of thousands of students who came under the influence of his kindly character.

As had been his annual custom after the close of school each summer, he arranged to go to Washington, N. H., there to spend his vacation. He had been delayed to visit his school affairs. In other years, he broke his journey to the city by a stopover at White River, but this year, anxious to reach his destination as soon as possible, he made better speed and on Saturday evening his horse Greenfield, N. H., driving his horse over the road. There he put up at the local inn, apparently in good health, and was found dead in his bed in the morning.

It is thought his death was due to indigestion, but as the cause was investigation, some are inclined to believe the cause of death was either heart disease or apoplexy.

Although he had been troubled with indigestion for some time, as well as usual on leaving Lowell on Saturday, although somewhat worn as a result of hard work, not only in connection with the closing of the high school, but in arranging for the work of next year.

Cyrus W. Irish was a native of Buckfield, Me., younger son of Cyrus and Katharine (Davis) Irish, and was born Aug. 27, 1862. He received his early education in the Buckfield schools, but at the age of 15 came to Lowell, where he made his home with his elder brother, the late Dr. John C.
Irish, and attended the Lowell high school. He went thence to Harvard university, graduating with the class of 1885.

In the following year he served for part of the school season as principal of the Pawtucket grammar school in this city, still making his home with Dr. Irish, who was 19 years his senior; but in 1886 he was appointed a teacher in the faculty of the high school, giving instruction in the sciences but principally in the department of chemistry. In this position he remained until 1891, when he was promoted to the position of principal of the high school, which he held until 1897, when he was elected principal to succeed the late Frank R. Coburn, who was chosen as principal of the State Normal school.

That was in 1897 and since that time Mr. Irish had conducted the school with marked success despite the fact that the annual increase of students made the former quarters wholly inadequate and that the city was slow to provide the necessary accommodations in his manner. Mr. Irish was profoundly learned in the sciences. Like his brother, the doctor, his higher talents were devoted to the study of science.
So eager was he in special lines of research, that he had written several text books which were widely used in schools and colleges.

Mr. Irish had but little time for social pleasures and, although he belonged to the Vesper Country club and the Yoric, he seldom withdrew from enough from his school responsibilities to enjoy their festivities. Indeed, if anything hastened the end of his useful life, it was the habit of allowing his school work to follow him to his home and deprive him of the relaxation which he needed after his arduous labors.

Deceased was married in June, 1890, to Miss Carrie A. Jockow, who, with one daughter, Elizabeth, survives him.
The death of Principal Irish will be deeply mourned by all who knew him, but particularly by the graduates of the high school for the last 28 years who had received from him a sort of initial training that carried them into the arena of business or professional life.

School Superintendent's Tribute Supt. of Schools Hugh J. Molloy has written the following tribute to Mr.
Irish:

"Lying dead among thy books,
The peace of God in all thy looks," Words fail to express the deep and oppressing bereavement that has been brought to all our hearts by the death of our dear friend and associate, Cyrus W. Irish.

With the bright, buoyant and inspiring words of commencement evening hardly died away, and with the delicious harmony of school songs still fresh in his memory, he had started on his journey to the little New Hampshire village for rest and quiet after the trying and engrossing work and cares of the school year; and not altogether forgetful, either, for his boys and the modest necessities for the work of organizing his school for another year had preceded him. Death overtook him on the way; the husband, the father, at the end of the harvest, his thoughts turned to and busy with the new seedtime.

For a full 20 years Mr. Irish filled with distinction his place at the head of the high school and gave most loyal, intelligent and devoted service to the exacting cares and responsibilities of a large and growing school.

Entering the school service at his graduation from college, he was granted the inestimable privilege of serving the youth of the city for more than 20 years in a large and splendid way; it was a great privilege and the recipient responded with cheerful and whole-hearted devotion, centering his hopes, his ambitions, his affection and his dreams upon the present welfare and the bright promise of the future.

Blessed with scholarly instincts and attainments, with a comprehensive grasp of the large affairs and the infinite details as well of instruction and administration, kindly and considerate in disposition of a manly refinement and gentleness, and with complete devotion to the fine ideals and honored traditions of the New England schoolmaster, Mr.
Irish was loyal and true to the noble calling which was his life work.

He has not lived, indeed, to see the fruitful of his hopes in certain material things, but he has been privileged to know that he has wrought many things well and that he has had a great part in the lives of many who will long cherish his memory with gratitude and affection.

AMERICAN AIRMAN WINS FIGHT WITH DEATH

FRENCH FRONT IN FRANCE, July 8. (By the Associated Press.)—Sergeant Andrew Campbell won in a fight with death with the chance of a million to one against him while flying with the Lafayette squadron yesterday afternoon. The last of his flying, his airplane broke off when he was soaring a mile high. Only his complete presence of mind and coolness saved him.

Campbell threw all the controls on the other side and volplaned some distance in order to detach the dead and maimed of the broken wing, which was beating against the body of the machine and threatening to dislocate everything. When he had succeeded, he descended slowly on the remaining wing onto a beet field without injury to himself. The closest turn in the air would have meant death.

This accident was preceded by the ceremony of the presentation of an American flag to the squadron by an employee of the treasury department at Washington.

French and American aviators from several squadrons were paraded on the flying ground for the ceremony, which was a fine example of the fraternity of the two countries. Before the ceremony, Corporals Campbell, Bridgman, Jowett and Diesel were promoted to sergeant for bravery during recent operations. They, with others, have been operating along the whole front, where they drove on dozens of German tanks during the German offensive last week.

In the week from June 24 to June 30 they fought 17 air duels and as the result of their reconnaissance furnished the French with most valuable information. Lufbery and Willis had four engagements each; Bridgman, Lowell, and each, three; Haviland, Soubrin, Hall and the French lieutenant, de Mission-Rouge, one each.

Hall, who is a newcomer after serving as a machine gunner in the British army, while making his second flight with the Lafayette, was wounded severely and was decorated with a military medal for attacking single-handed seven German airmen. Infants.

They are sent out with aeroplanes or motorboats of the "mosquito fleet" and when released carry messages home at the rate of 100 to 1500 yards a minute. In aviation work the birds are used as emergency messengers.

AS A THIRD BASEMAN GROH HAS FEW EQUALS

BOSTON, July 9.—A few days ago in a fanatical group of argument started some one opened the debate as to the best third baseman now in baseball. This, of course, was to include all departments of play. The debate in its main allotment was banked around three names—Larry Gardner of the Red Sox, Frank Baker of the Yankees and Heide Zimmerman of the Giants—with Buck Weaver of the White Sox also receiving polite mention. While the debate was still raging, some noncombatant started the group with this delayed query: "What's the matter with Heide Groh of the

SOME GARDEN PESTS AND PLANT DISEASES

Cabbages and Cauliflower—Club Root. Discard sickly, drooping plants with swellings on roots. If worms are found (look at the centre of the plant), spray with arsenite of lead paste, three level teaspoonfuls to one gallon water, and soap one ounce (dissolve in the water). Spray at intervals frequent enough to stop damage until heads start to form. Thereafter dust on hellebore if necessary.

Black rot of cabbage and cauliflower. Remove and destroy diseased heads as soon as trouble appears. No other treatment.

Cucumbers—Blight or downy mildew. Spray thoroughly with Bordeaux mixture 1-3 oz. fresh lime and 1-3 oz. copper sulphate to one gallon water at intervals of 10 to 14 days throughout season as soon as vines start to run. To protect against beetles, dust plants with air-sprayed lime or eggs for the Coley. Early and late blight. Spray with Bordeaux mixture (1-3 oz. fresh lime and 1-3 oz. copper sulphate to one gallon water) every 10 to 14 days, keeping plants covered with spray material.

Squashes, Pumpkins, Melons—Crush between two smooth blades (the glossy, red-brown clusters of eggs found on the under sides of well developed leaves. Sprays are not effective.

The squash vine borer is indicated by the wilting of apparently healthy plants. No special summer treatment can be recommended other than to start rooting at the joints of the vine by covering with earth and horse manure out of the stems. —Mass. Agric. College.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES IN QUARTERLY CONVENTION

In St. Patrick's school hall in Suffolk street yesterday afternoon the Federation of Catholic societies of North Middlesex county held its quarterly convention. President Thomas J. Fitzgerald presided. Besides the officers and members of the executive board, delegates from 18 parishes and 14 societies were present.

The reports of the president and other officers were read, and addresses on the work which the federation hopes to accomplish in the future were made by the chaplain, Rev. Francis J. Mullin, Dr. James E. O'Connor and James O'Sullivan. The latter told the members of the details of a recent interview with His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell, and said that the cardinal expressed his appreciation of the work which the federation was doing, and sent his blessing to the members of the society.

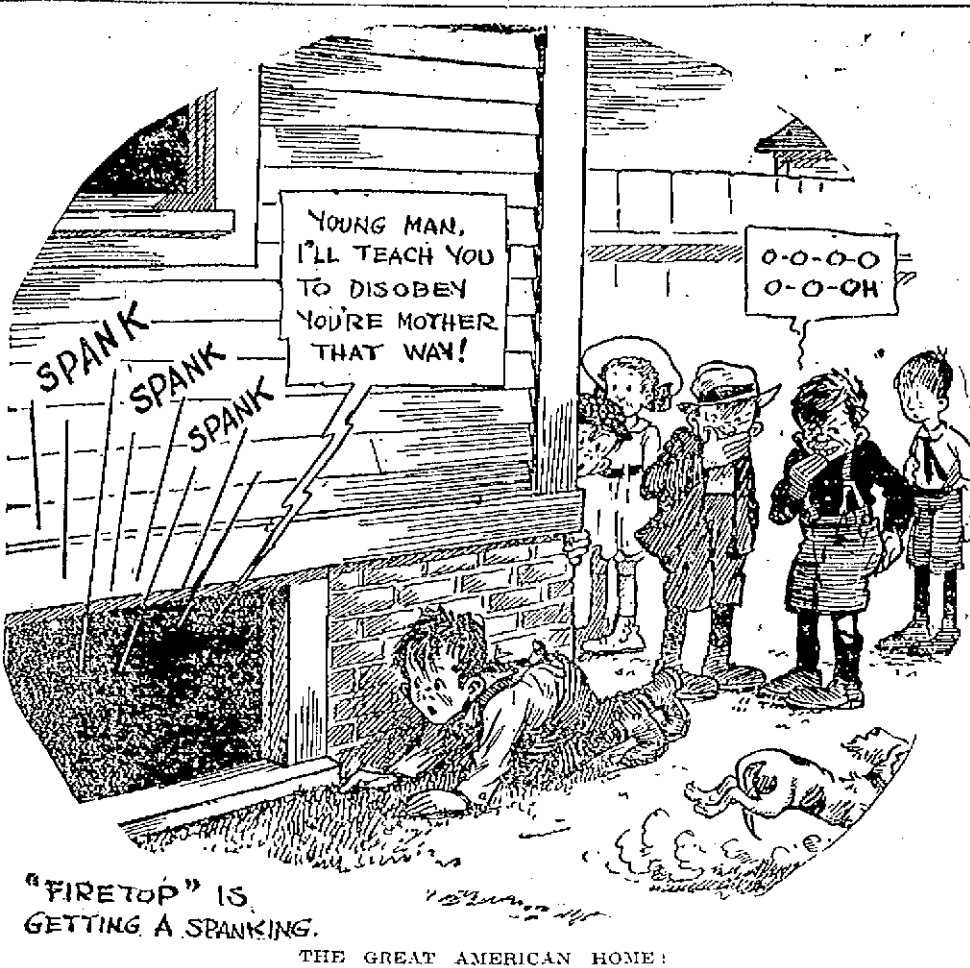

The national convention will be held this year in Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 23 to 29. It was voted to leave to the executive board the selection of delegates.

CHURCH CHORUS OUTING

A score or more members of the choir of the Gorham Street Methodist church held a very enjoyable outing Saturday afternoon at the camp of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gow on the Merrimack river near Tyngsboro. The party arrived at the camp about 2.30, and at once a program of sports was undertaken. The men played ball in the early part of the afternoon, while the young women strolled about in the pine woods or went boating. In the later part of the day an exciting boat race between Fred Potter and Bertram Nelds was won by the former. To make the contest more thrilling the boats had been filled with girls, and Mr. Nelds claims that he lost because he had the heavier load.

Supper was served on the camp piazza, and was fully enjoyed. After supper there was more boating, and later the party assembled again on the piazza and spent an hour or so singing popular songs. Mr. Gow accompanied with his violin. The trip homeward was made early in the evening, and Mr. and Mrs. Gow were the recipients of many congratulations.

Next Wednesday the Ladies' Aid society will have an outing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Woodcock at Salem Depot, N. H. The departure from the church will be made at 10.15. All ladies of the church are invited to attend. A basket luncheon will be served. Next Saturday the Young People's society will hold a lawn party at North Billerica.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME!

WITH BLINDED SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

The following extracts from a letter dated Paris June 14 from Mrs. Cora Parsons Kessler, honorary secretary, received at the headquarters of the American-British-French-Belgian Permanent Blind Relief War Fund, 90 Fifth avenue, New York, give interesting details of the activities of the officers of the American section of the fund now in France for the purpose of extending its work, and show what joy and gratitude the money furnished by the generosity of Americans to help the blinded soldiers help themselves is bringing to these special sufferers from the war.

"In all the plans for the future work to be undertaken by the fund, I am glad to say that the American members are in absolute harmony with the French committee, and that we are thoughtfully considering the different plans projected for the most successful employment of the fund's monies.

"We are now occupied in examining different properties in or near Paris, with the object of securing a suitable place for the co-ordination of the various objectives we have in view, such as depots for the storing of raw materials, exchanges for the sale of manufactured products and so on, as well as ateliers for different trades and schools for various works of instruction.

"The first visit of Mr. Kessler, Mrs. Webster and myself was to the Hospice of the Quinze-Vingts. This ancient institution was once the barracks of the Mousquetaires, whose valorous deeds we have all enjoyed in the pages of Alexander Dumas. Afterwards the barracks became a general hospital, and at the beginning of the war, one section of it was given over to the first treatment of the blinded soldiers. The hospital is under the direction of Dr. Valade, a member of our committee, who conducted us through the institute and pointed out to us the most interesting cases. There we saw dozens of the unfortunate men whom this fund had just taken under its protection and their gratitude to the American sympathizers who had come to their succor was touching beyond words. One fine young fellow, twenty years of age, totally blinded, both arms amputated at the elbow and rendered deaf also, made us an affecting speech of thanks in his own name and in that of his fellow sufferers.

"Our next visit was to the re-educational institute of Reully. This school is an adjunct of the Quinze-Vingts, so that after the soldiers' eye-wounds are healed at the Quinze-Vingts the men are sent to Reully for the training which is to fit them for a new life of usefulness. Many trades are taught here, such as brush-making, chair-caning, the making of various parts of automobiles and also aeroplanes, typewriting and also many other things which are more in the way of diversion than of practical value of the aforementioned vocations.

"When these men have finished their term of instruction in one or more of these trades, and are considered completely re-educated and ready to return to their own homes to commence their new lives, a great difficulty arises. There are no funds available for their re-establishment, no funds to buy them tools, or machines, or raw materials, without which their learning is of no avail. Consequently they find themselves left, helpless, and dependent upon their families, barring the small pension they receive.

"The A.B.F.B. has already come to the assistance of many of these re-educated men, has secured a small cottage for many of them supplied with furniture and with tools and raw materials so that they cheerfully commence their new lives under the happiest possible auspices. The surrounding conditions of every man are looked into, and our committee secures the co-operation of the prefect of the village, or the mayor, or of some other reliable person, to report on the progress of the reeducated man, and to watch over his welfare. We have so far received only the most highly satisfactory reports of this branch of the fund's work and a great many of our proteges are happily settled near their relatives and friends.

"CANADA IN WAR UNTIL LAST GUN IS FIRED"

In these two photographs may be seen Canadians cleaning up one of the great howitzers with which they have done great execution against the German lines on the French front. The Canadians have proved themselves keen artillerymen, although much of their fame in the war has been gained as infantrymen. They are quick to learn and adapt themselves readily to modern conditions of warfare in camp as well as on the battlefield. Recent reports tell how the newly arrived American troops fraternize especially with the Canadians, finding many Americans in the ranks of the Dominion's men. Celebrating "Dominion Day," July 1, the Canadian holiday, all the guns on the Canadian front in France fired a triple salvo against the enemy. Just before noon the guns ceased to fire. Simultaneously at 12 o'clock and again at 2 and 4 minutes past the hour, hundreds of guns, from eighteen pounders to the great siege pieces, the shells from which fell miles behind the German front, burst out in a mighty clamor. "The enemy for the third time on Canada's natal day since the war began realized that the Dominion is in this fight for liberty and democracy till the last gun is fired," says a dispatch.

BIG CANADIAN GUN ON FRENCH FRONT

against your unmerited fate, and at first refused to embrace the opportunity of learning a trade or profession, declaring that none of these things would be of the slightest use to you, once you were discharged from here, and sent empty-handed to your homes. But, little by little, you took heart, commenced to apply yourselves to learning some of the many things offered for your re-education, and now you have before you the reward of your long diligence and patience and application. Kind and sympathetic friends on the other side of the ocean have been thinking about you and working for your welfare and now they have come to bring you the cheerful tidings that once you have completed your training and are sufficiently re-educated to begin a new career for yourself, the A.B.F.B. fund, represented here today by Mr. and Mrs. Kessler and Mrs. Webster, will watch over your future and give you a fresh start in life.

"There were more phrases in this same spirit, which the men heartily applauded, and then our two special proteges came forward with two handsome bouquets, one for Mrs. Webster and one for me. So you see we were royally feted in this quiet old-world town of Chartres and we returned to Paris, hot, dusty and tired but happy-hearted beyond measure to know that we were connected with the great work of relief, which is more deeply appreciated over here than words can tell.

"Up to the present time we cannot attempt to do what is urgently needed and what we desire to do, since the amount of our collections has not yet reached the necessary proportions. But we are relying upon continued and additional support from home, and once established, our institution will be worthy of the best traditions of the great nation whose generosity it will represent.

"We have several attractive premises under consideration at present for this A.B.F.B. institution, but we do not intend to come to any hasty decision, and shall give each location careful thought and investigation."

SUNDAY SERVICES IN THE CATHOLIC CHURCHES

In the majority of the Catholic churches of the city the summer schedule of masses on Sunday has been adopted. The high mass at 11 o'clock has been done away with, and the low mass substituted. In some of the churches the sermon on the gospel of the day has been eliminated, and in others only brief instructions on the reading of announcements for the week are given. Vesper services in the evening have either been shortened or dispensed with entirely. These arrangements will continue until the next church year.

Yesterday was the quarterly communion Sunday for members of the various Catholic societies in the various churches. At St. Patrick's church, the society received at the 7 o'clock mass, celebrated by the pastor, Monsignor McLaughlin. At St. Peter's church, the members received at the 7.30 o'clock mass with Rev. Daniel J. Kehrer, Ph. D., officiating. The 11 o'clock mass was officiated by Rev. Francis L. Shea. Members of the various ladies' societies, and also the boys of the parish will receive communion next Sunday.

At the Sacred Heart church it was announced yesterday that the drawings on the reunion tickets would be held next Friday evening in the school hall. Reports from the various committees show that the affair on the Fourth of July was extremely successful. Next Sunday the Holy Name society of this parish will receive communion in a body, and afterwards will hold a breakfast in the school hall. The communion date was postponed one week on account of the lack of time to make arrangements for the breakfast. The school graduation, the opera by the young people of the parish, and the affair last Wednesday, all came closely together and left little time to make arrangements for the communion breakfast.

In the other churches of the city the usual Sunday services were carried out. In many parishes the members of the Immaculate Conception sodality received communion.

The parish mass at St. Jean Baptiste church yesterday was celebrated by Rev. A. Lajoie, S.M., son of Mr. and Mrs. Olivier Lajoie of Colonial avenue, this city, who was recently ordained in Canada. A large congregation, including the parents, sisters and brothers of the young clergyman attended the service. At the 11 o'clock mass in the Holy Trinity church, Rev. Dr. J. H. Racette, C.M.I., with a full choir, a young member of the Marist order and to his family, who have been residents of this city for the past nine years.

EIGHT CENT FARE
There is a persistent rumor in Billerica to the effect that the Lexington and Boston Street Railway Co. will make a big effort to raise the fare on the Billerica line to eight cents between town limits, and it is understood that the selection of the town board to oppose the proceeding with a petition for the increase will make the cost of travel from Billerica to Boston, a distance of about 21 miles, 16 cents.

Some 20 odd years ago, when the Lexington & Boston Street Railway Co. was chartered into the town of Billerica, an agreement was made that the rate of fare between Billerica Centre and Bedford Depot would be 16 cents in the safe in the town hall, but of course is of no value as the railroad commission permitted the Lexington Street Railway to raise its fares more than a dozen years ago, and since that time passengers have been paying a six-cent unit.

About two years ago the selectmen of Billerica tried to arrange an agreement between the Day State and Lexington & Boston to establish a Day State transfer station at that time within town limits, but the latter company would not even agree to a conference on the proposition, though the Day State was willing to take the matter under advisement at that time. Should the selectmen be compelled to bring this latest case to the attention of the public service commission they will receive the backing of the whole town.

MASS. WOMEN DISTRIBUTE 17,257 ARTICLES OF COMFORT TO BLUE-JACKETS IN THREE WEEKS

BOSTON, July 9.—Officers of the women's auxiliary of the Massachusetts branch of the Navy league announced today that 17,257 articles of comfort had been distributed to blue-jackets in the United States navy during the last three months. The articles, most of which were made by Massachusetts women, ranged from wash cloths to sweaters.

VISITING ELKS TO BE ASKED TO ASSIST IN RECRUITING AT BOSTON THIS WEEK

BOSTON, July 9.—Recruiting officers for the various branches of the military and naval service are anxious to take advantage of the presence of many thousand members of the Order of Elks here this week by securing their aid in stimulating enlistments. Well known speakers attending the sessions of the order will be asked to make brief speeches in front of the recruiting tents on the common.

INFLATING AND TESTING NAVAL DIRIGIBLE BALLOON

The inflating and testing of the envelope of a big dirigible balloon now being constructed for the United States military forces are shown in the picture. These monster gas bags with paddles are not considered as effective as aeroplanes. This has been demonstrated conclusively by the experiences of the Zeppelins, Parsevals, etc., in the great war. But they have their military uses for observation and passenger carrying purposes, and the American government has been experimenting with them. Inflation brings out the defects of the gas bag, to be discovered by the making of careful tests.

SALOON THE COUNTRY'S GREATEST PERIL

A union service of the Central M. E. and Paige Street Baptist churches was held in the Baptist church yesterday morning and Rev. A. M. Osgood, pastor of the Central M. E. church, spoke on the topic "Our Country's Greatest Peril." His text was taken from Isaiah, 25-17.

During the course of his sermon he said:

"Our country's greatest peril is the saloon. The greatest question at issue in time of war or in time of peace, is the saloon question. This question is bigger than any candidate, and above all parties."

"The cry is sometimes heard that if the saloons are voted out saloon keepers will lose their jobs, and their families will suffer. Did it ever occur to you that if the saloons are not voted out, hundreds of the patrons of saloons will lose their jobs and their families will suffer? But the closing of the saloon simply forces the bar-keeper to change from a bad job to a good one."

Another objection raised is, why allow drugstores to sell liquor? Sixth class liquor licenses should not be granted to drugstores in no-liquor towns. Under a sixth-class liquor license, drugstores can sell unlimited quantities of liquor and there is no redress so long as the purchaser can pay for it."

AMERICANS OFF FOR THE BATTLE FRONT

FRENCH SEAPORT, July 8.—This city was astir today at the prospect of the impending departure of the American contingent for its permanent training camp. Maj. Gen. William L. Sibert has completed all arrangements for moving the men. The general himself will leave by automobile and will take up quarters already prepared in a village "somewhere in France."

GEN. PERSHING ORDERS AMERICAN TROOPS TO TREAT FRENCH COURTEOUSLY

PARIS, July 7 (Delayed).—Maj. Gen. Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, has issued the following general order to his troops:

"For the first time in history an American army finds itself in European territory. The good name of the United States of America and the maintenance of cordial relations require the perfect deportment of each member of this command."

"It is of the gravest importance that the soldiers of the American army, at all times treat the French people, and especially the women, with the greatest courtesy and consideration."

"The valiant deeds of the French armies and the allies, by which they together have successfully maintained the common cause for three years, and the sacrifices of the civil population of France in support of their armies, command our profound respect."

"This can be best expressed on the part of our forces by uniform courtesies to all the French people and by the faithful observance of their laws and customs."

"The intense cultivation of the soil in France under conditions caused by the war makes it necessary that extreme care be taken to do no damage to private property."

"The entire French manhood capable of bearing arms is in the field fighting the enemy, and it should, therefore, be a point of honor to each member of the American army to avoid doing the least damage to any property in France. Such conduct is much more reprehensible here."

"Treat them as those of our own country."

NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSN.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 5.—"We have had meetings of the National Education

The mediators were to meet with representatives of the metal mine workers industrial union, a branch of the Industrial Workers of the World.

The first display of force by the United States troops who came here Thursday night to maintain order was made yesterday when a troop of cavalry was called on to disperse a meeting of Industrial Workers of the World which had been forbidden by the local authorities. The men dispersed quietly and held their meeting unmolested on a hillside a mile outside of town.

BIG UPHEAVAL IN GERMANY NEAR

BERLIN, July 8, via London, July 9.—Unless all present indications fail, the next few days the German empire is on the eve of a momentous, if not historical, parliamentary upheaval.

Developments under the gilded dome of the Reichstag building in the last 48 hours point squarely to a significant rearrangement of votes in the election of a new Reichstag, and a corresponding reform in the present stubborn resistance of the reactionary old guard.

Although the sessions of the main committee and the constitutional committee have been strictly limited, the inference that the discussions of vital subjects of governmental policy frequently reached the boiling point.

That they have been so indicated clearly by the decision to postpone the Saturday plenary session which was to have marked the opening of the general debate and the expected speech of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg.

Erzberger Took Lead Off

The identity of the members of the Reichstag who took the lead by a candid and incisive attack on the government and its situation at home and abroad was long established. The first speaker, Erzberger, a leader of the clerical center, took the lead off the session by a scathing political attack and paved the way for the discussion which followed.

For all but the Pap-German faction in Friday's session of the main committee.

Erzberger's discussion of the Reichstag situation is said to have been remarkable for its lucidity and candor. It was augmented effectively by the utterances of the "democrats" who followed, the impressions they had gathered at the recent Stockholm conference and in neutral countries.

Their denunciation of the situation in Germany was not subjected forthwith to a thorough overhauling for the good of the German people and the German empire.

The majority faction of the government must make a positive declaration that it is opposed to the policy of annexation either in the east or west.

While all the sessions of the main committee are looked upon as confidential, the Reichstag proceedings to warrant the conclusion that the discussions covered the entire range of internal political reform.

The "Tagesspiegel" observes "that the progress of developments is irresistible because right, reason and necessity demand these things and the strong men whom the conservatives are calling for would have little luck himself and would bring less to the empire."

Chancellor's Absence Noted

The absence of the Chancellor from the session of the main and constitutional committees in the last few days has caused general comment in parliamentary circles as exceptional in view of the confidential character of the discussions.

Let Saturday is was announced that the desire of the Chancellor to inform himself more thoroughly on the nature of the committee conferences was responsible for the delay of the general sessions.

The "Zeltung Amnittelag" says that a delegation of six members of the "social democratic party" in the Reichstag, called on Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg late Friday for the purpose of impressing the gravity of the situation on him.

Demands on Chancellor
The delegates insisted that the Chancellor make an unequivocal declaration that the government was prepared at any time to enter into peace negotiations on the basis of the status quo.

The delegation also demanded immediate introduction of parliamentary and electoral reforms, urging the appointment of leading Reichstag deputies to secretarial and ministerial posts.

Representatives of the progressive people's party and of the main liberal party also were in conference with the Chancellor.

There are rumors that Prof. Adolf von Harnack, one of the most influential advisers of the Chancellor, is slated to succeed Herr von Trott zu Solz as Prussian minister of education. The present minister is said to be opposed to sweeping electoral reform.

Lowell Lady Now Praising Remedy

Mrs. Jennie Shaw, 23 Dutton St., Claims Plant Juice Has Restored Her Health

Plant Juice is purely an herbal preparation, and is proving to be the greatest ever produced. Once the public of a city tests it, they know its merit and a great demand for it follows. It is particularly a tonic for city people, where modern modes and customs of life lead to various forms of debility—to nervous, stomach, blood and kidney troubles, to a general run down condition. Plant Juice tones up as does no other remedy. It gives immediate relief and lasting results. All forms of stomach, liver, kidney trouble and blood disorders are relieved by Plant Juice. It is a true specific for general debility and organic weakness in men and women, and is sure to bring a return of buoyant spirits of cheerfulness and of good health.

Selected at random from a mass of written testimonials is the following from Mrs. Jennie Shaw, a popular Lowell lady, who resides at No. 23 Dutton street, and has a wide acquaintance. She said:

"I have been troubled with my stomach for about 35 years; my food fermented and gas formed; I was bloated, had headaches, dizzy spells, could not sleep at night, and the sight of food would sicken me; I had a hard lump like lead in the middle of my stomach; my liver was inactive; I was weak and nervous and hardly able to get around to do anything; I was so constipated that I had to keep taking some laxative all the time. I had read about Plant Juice, and I was induced to get a bottle of it. I have taken three bottles and never felt better in my life; I have no more headaches, sleep well and can eat any kind of food; my constipation and liver troubles have disappeared, and Plant Juice was the only one to relieve me. I most highly endorse it."

The Plant Juice Man is at Dows, the Drugists, 100 State Street, Lowell, Mass., who is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

High Tide in Telephone Traffic

This chart shows the extraordinary growth of the long distance traffic in the Bell System under war conditions.

It does not show the tremendous advance in the price of raw materials, which enter into the manufacture of telephone equipment—more than doubled since the war began. It does not show the increase in the price of labor and the shortage of both labor and materials, which have set a definite limit to the increase in telephone facilities.

The entrance of this nation in the great war was the signal for the Bell System to pledge its entire service, unreservedly to the Government.

As our military strength grows, and we become larger participants in the great war, the demands of the Government upon our service will continue to increase, and must always be met.

An extraordinary increase in telephone traffic, due to the unprecedented commercial and industrial activity incident to the war, must also be adequately provided for.

Like the other resources of the nation, our resources must be conserved, and we appeal to the American public, always patriotic to the core, to assist us in meeting these extraordinary conditions by avoiding as far as possible wasteful and extravagant use of the service.

PRES. WILSON ORDERS EXPORT EMBARGO

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Government control of American exports, authorized in a provision of the espionage act, was ordered put into operation July 16 by President Wilson last night with the issuance of a proclamation putting under license shipments to all countries of the most important export commodities.

In a statement accompanying the proclamation the president declared the government's policy will be first, to give consideration to American needs; next, to meet as far as possible the requirements of the allies, and last, to supply neutral countries wherever practical.

It is made clear that every effort will be made to see that no supplies reach the central powers.

Food Embargo Possible

The commodities named in the list put under control are coal, coke, fuel oil, kerosene and gasoline, including bunkers; food grains, flour and meal, fodder and feeds, meats and fat, pig iron, billets, ship plates and structural shapes, scrap iron and scrap steel, ferro-manganese, fertilizers, arms, ammunition and explosives.

The inclusion of foodstuffs in the proclamation lends color to statements that the administration is considering the advisability of a complete embargo for 60 days on all food shipments to give the country time to ascertain the amount of its supplies and to give allies and neutral countries an opportunity to present a full program of their requirements.

Firm Grasp on Shipping

The president, in his statement, says the government is trying first to ameliorate present food conditions and conditions that are expected to arise before now and the next harvest.

Many officials, alarmed at the wheat shortage and the heavy drain the allies and neutrals are making on every kind of American food supplies, are urging an immediate embargo on food shipments.

Through control of coal and fuels the government intends to take a firm grasp on shipping. An arrangement under negotiation will give the American government control over the movement of all allied tonnage, but of neutral vessels as well. Ships now on runs not regarded as necessary to a successful conduct of the war will be forced into trade considered more essential, and vessels now held in port through fear of submarine attack will be required to go into service.

Pressure on Japan

Control of iron and steel was made necessary by war demands on the iron and steel industries. A shortage of steel in this country is threatened because of the large amount that is being diverted to munitions manufacture and the construction of the government's mechanical fleet.

Japan's heavy purchases of steel plates for merchant shipbuilding made necessary that plates be put under control. At the same time this action gives the government a weapon with which to force Japanese tonnage into the trans-Atlantic trades.

Specific regulations governing food exports and shipments of other commodities named in today's list are expected to be issued by the president within a few days.

Even if a complete embargo is not placed on food exports for a time, it is known many restrictions will be made. The war department is drawing up a program to be submitted to the president immediately.

One argument advanced by advocates of a complete embargo on food shipments is that the neutral countries of the allies have presented entirely different statements regarding Perkin, Peru, Portugal, her colonies, possessions or protectorates, Russia, Rumania, Salvador, San Marino, Serbia, Siam, Spain, her colonies, possessions or protectorates, Sweden, Switzerland, Uruguay, Venezuela, or Turkey.

To Be Administered by Reinsfeld

"The orders and regulations from time to time prescribed will be administered by and under the authority of the secretary of commerce, from whom licenses, in conformity of the said orders and regulations, will issue."

"In controlling by license the export of certain indispensable commodities from the United States, the government has first and chiefly in view the amelioration of the food conditions which have arisen or are likely to arise in our own country before new crops are harvested."

"Not only is the conservation of our prime food and fodder supplies a matter of vital importance to our own people, but the retention of an adequate supply of raw materials is essential to our program of military and naval construction and the continuance of our necessary domestic activities. We shall, therefore, similarly safeguard all our fundamental supplies."

Duty to Allies and Neutrals

"It is obviously the duty of the United States in liberating any surplus products over and above our own domestic needs to consider first the necessities of all the nations engaged in war against the central empires."

"As to neutral nations, however, we also recognize our duty. The government does not wish to hamper them. On the contrary, it wishes and intends by all fair and equitable means to co-operate with them in their difficult task of adding from our available supplies to their own domestic supply and of meeting their pressing necessities or deficits."

"In considering the deficits of food supplies, the government means only to fulfill its obvious obligation to ensure itself that neutrals are husbanding their own resources and that our supplies will not become available, either directly or indirectly, to feed the enemy."

How to Obtain Licenses

The method of procedure in obtaining licenses for export was outlined last night by Sec. Reinsfeld, who will administer the act, as follows:

"First, applications for licenses may be made to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, division of export licenses, 1435 K street, Washington, D. C. or to any of the branches of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce—New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, San Francisco and Seattle."

"Second, in applying for a license to export any of the commodities covered by the president's proclamation, applicants should give the following information in triplicate form: (a) quantity, (b) description of goods, (c) name and address of consignee, (d) name and address of consignor."

"Third, the license will be good for only 60 days and at the expiration of that time must be renewed, and if not shipped within that time a new application must be made."

"Fourth, the various branch offices of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce have been given full instructions as to the disposition of applications for licenses."

SUPER-WHEAT TO CHECK FAMINE

Burbank, Plant Wizard, Perfects New Grain—Will Quadruple Harvest

Former Massachusetts Farmer Tremendous Aid to Victory in War

(Copyright, 1917, Newspaper Enterprise Association)

By Jack Jungmeyer

Special Dispatch to The Sun

SANTA ROSA, Cal., July 9.—Luther Burbank, the world's greatest scientific agriculturist, today announced the perfection of a "super wheat" which he believes will go far toward solving the universal problem of grain shortage.

Its yield is five times as much per acre as the average production throughout the United States today.

Where 10 bushels are now garnered to 70 is the measure of the new Burbank variety. It is as if this genius of the plant kingdom had suddenly extended many fold America's wheat acreage.

The promise of this achievement for a hunger-threatened world can scarcely be overestimated.

It is the product of 10 years' extensive and very expensive experimenting to combine into one wonderful new grain the best food qualities, hardiness and fecundity of many strains of wheat selected from all parts of the earth.

It has been carefully tested in comparison with 66 of the world's best wheats and excels every one of them in productivity.

Burbank told us about this wonder grain here for the first time today.

LUTHER BURBANK

day. Until now he has kept it secret for fear the result of his labors would be appropriated by others.

"I have," he said, "perfected and ready for the market the most productive wheat ever evolved by man—wheat may say the wheat of the future, and I'll back it up."

The average yield will run about 50 to 70 bushels to the acre. It is hardy, is hardier, smooth and milky, and will grow anywhere in the temperate zone.

"We have," he said, "universally planted, the same acreage today under cultivation should yield many times as much wheat."

No man's time is of more value to the nation than Luther Burbank's. Identified with the national emergency food garden commission, he is working feverishly against time to his home and experiment gardens here—living on his nerve, toiling often far into the night, giving the world freely the benefit of his genius.

He gave me half an hour from his precious tasks; a quiet, smiling man whose face is as gray as his hair and whose clothes were stained with the dirt from his garden.

"This country has raised over 500,000,000 bushels of Burbank potatoes since I produced them in 1873," he said. "The former Massachusetts farmer (now) who has become the world's plant wizard." "Twenty-seven million carloads."

"According to official statement more than 35 per cent. of all plums and prunes annually shipped out of California in fresh state are my own creations."

"But I make the confident prediction that my new wheat will do as much or more for the nation than the Burbank potato and the fruits."

He showed me a sheaf of the super grain, fondling it with the scientist's passion for creation. The heads were like clovered gold—long, heavy and amazingly big grained.

"Protein," he resumed, "is the important food element in wheat. I am still working to increase the protein in this new type and in other western varieties of grain which are particularly lacking in it."

"With that element now improved and the yield per acre greatly augmented, a big step forward has been taken in meeting the world's cry for bread."

"And now you'll have to excuse me," he concluded, hurrying back into the garden where he is far more precious than any arsenal to the government that must feed the legions fighting to make the world safe for democracy.

Bubble Fountains Again

The chief topic of discussion at city hall now is the bubble fountain and who is to look after them. Supt. Kernan of the park department states that his department has nothing to do with the care of the fountains, for that work comes under the water department. Commissioner Bronson states that his department supplies the fountains with water free and least the members of the park department might do is to notify the water department when there is anything wrong with the city fountains. He said he cannot afford to keep men walking around the city and commons for the purpose of inspecting fountains, while employees of the park department are constantly doing the job. ATTACK BRITISH AIR SERVICE

London Papers Express Indignation Over Failure to Stop German Air Raids

Country Humiliated and Disgraced—Demand Removal of Incompetents

LONDON, July 9.—The morning newspapers subordinate everything to Saturday's air raid, comment upon which reflects the popular indignation and in cases spirited condemnation of the government. The country, it is declared, has been humiliated and disgraced in a manner never experienced since the Dutch fleet burned Chatham more than 250 years ago. The incident is described by the most ardent commentators as disgraceful alike to the war office and the admiralty, for the failure to stop the German air service and the removal of those responsible for the "miserable display of incompetence" is demanded.

Even those comments which are more restrained complain that the great Britain is falling behind in aircraft construction and say it needs speeding up.

In political circles there was a good deal of criticism of the failure on the part of the British air defenses to ward off the German raiders. Fractions in the house of commons are planning to bombard the government with demands for an overhauling of the whole system. Those who favor raids in reprisal also are active and specifically the reasons why no reply is made in kind to the German raids is made in the North station.

on England. In this the advocates of reprisals are being backed by masses of the people in the quarters affected by recent raids.

Although some of those injured on Saturday are in a serious condition, in most cases they are progressing favorably and no further deaths have been reported. Some of the streets in which bombs were dropped were still closed to traffic this morning.

The police were still searching this morning among the ruins of East end tenements for a number of persons who are missing.

MATRIMONIAL

Henry Dietch and Miss Matilda Richardson were married yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Sacred Heart rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O.M.I. The bride wore white satin and carried lilacs of the valley. She was attended by Miss Mabel Heathcock, who was attired in blue grape de chene and carried white lilies. The best man was Thomas Richardson. At the close of the ceremony the couple left on an extended wedding trip to Cape Cod and upon their return they will make their home in Dorchester.

Donnelly-McDowell

A very pretty wedding took place on Sunday afternoon, when Miss Ellen McDowell was united in marriage to Mr. Hugh Donnelly, a popular young man of Centralville. The ceremony was performed at St. Michael's rectory by Rev. Fr. Shaw. The bride was charmingly attired in Royal blue silk net with an overdress of pink chiffon and silver trimmings and carried a large bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was Miss Catherine Donnelly, who wore pink silk liberty lilies. She also carried carnations. The best man was Mr. Thomas Donnelly. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Thomas McDowell. Harvay catered. The happy couple 'mid a shower of rice and confetti, went on an automobile trip to the south shore where they will spend their honeymoon. They will be at home to their friends after July 20. The gifts to the bridesmaid and best man were a sapphire ring and a gold stickpin. Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly received many beautiful presents, including cut glass and silver.

SUDDEN DEATH

position and confined himself to the many thousands of students who came under the influence of his many character.

As had been his annual custom after the close of school each summer, he arranged to go to Washington, M. D., there to spend his vacation. His journey was delayed by him while he was delayed to wind up his school affairs.

In other years, he broke the journey at Wilton, where he was anxious to reach his destination as soon as possible. He made better speed and on Saturday evening reached the city, where he was met by his father and mother.

It is thought his death was due to indigestion, but as the dead clothes were undisturbed, and the cause of death was either heart disease or apoplexy.

Although he had been troubled with indigestion of late, he was not aware of it. He died at his home on Saturday, although somewhat worn as a result of hard work, not only in connection with the closing of the school, but in arranging for the work of next year.

Cyrus W. Irish was a native of Buckfield, Me., younger son of Cyrus and Katherine (Davis) Irish, and was born Aug. 27, 1862. He received his early education in the Buckfield schools, but at the age of 15 came to Lowell, where he made his home with his elder brother, the late John C. Irish, and attended the Lowell high school. He went thence to the city, graduating with the class of 1885. In the following year he served for part of the school season as principal in the Patrick grammar school, and in this city, still making his home with Dr. Irish, who was 19 years his senior; but in 1886 he was appointed a teacher in the city of the high school, giving instruction in the sciences but principally in the department of chemistry. In this position he remained until steadily increasing efficiency until elected principal to succeed the late Frank F. Coburn, who was chosen as principal of the State Normal school.

That was in 1897 and since that time Mr. Irish had conducted the school with marked success despite the fact that the annual increase of students made the former quarters wholly inadequate and that the city was slow to provide the necessary accommodation.

Although very unassuming in his manner, Mr. Irish was profoundly learned in the sciences. Like his brother, the doctor, his higher talents led to scientific investigation. So successful was he in special lines of research, that he had written several text books which were widely used in schools and colleges.

Mr. Irish had but little time for social pleasures and, although he belonged to the Vesper Country club and the Yoric, he seldom withdrew long enough from his school responsibilities to enjoy their festive life. Indeed, if anything hastened the end of his useful life, it was the habit of allowing his school work to follow him to his home and deprive him of the relaxation which he needed after his arduous labors.

Deceased was married in June, 1892, to Miss Carrie A. Jockow, who, with one daughter, Elizabeth, survives him. The death of Mr. Irish will be deeply mourned by all who know him, but particularly by the graduates of the high school for the last 26 years, who had received from him a sort of intellectual training that carried them into the arena of business or professional life.

School Superintendent's Tribute

Supt. of Schools Hugh J. Molloy has written the following tribute to Mr. Irish:

"Lying dead among thy books, The peace of God in all thy looks; Words fail to express the deep and oppressing bereavement that has been brought to all our hearts by the death of our dear friend and associate, Cyrus W. Irish.

With the bright, buoyant and inspiring words of commencement evening hardly died away, and with the delightful harmony of school songs still fresh in his memory, he had started on his journey to the little New Hampshire village for rest and quiet after the trying and engrossing work and cares of the school year; and not altogether for rest, either, for his books and the material necessary for the work of organizing his school for another year had preceded him. Death overtook him on the way; the husbandman lies dead at the end of the harvest, his thoughts turned to and busy with the new seed-time.

For a full 20 years Mr. Irish filled with distinction his place at the head of the high school and gave most loyal, intelligent and devoted service to the exacting cares and responsibilities of a large and growing school.

Entering the school service at his graduation from college, he was granted the inestimable privilege of serving the youth of the city for more than 30 years in a large and splendid way; it was a great privilege and the recipient responded with cheerful and whole-hearted devotion, centering his hopes, his ambitions, his affection and his dreams upon the present welfare and the future promise of the city.

Blessed with scholarly instincts and attainments, with a comprehensive grasp of the large affairs and the infinite details as well of instruction and administration, kindly and considerate in disposition, of a manly refinement and gentleness, and with complete devotion to the fine ideal and honored traditions of the New England schoolmaster, Mr. Irish was loyal and true to the noble calling which was his life work.

Life has not lived, indeed, to see the fruition of his hopes in certain material things, but he has been privileged to know that he has wrought many things well and that he has had a great part in the lives of many who will cherish his memory with gratitude and affection.

CHURCH CHOIR OUTING

of the Gorham Street Methodist church held a very enjoyable outing Saturday afternoon at the camp of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gow on the Merrimack river near Tyngsboro. The party arrived at the camp about 2.30, and at once a program of sports was undertaken. The afternoon, while the young women strolled about in the pine woods or went boating. In the later part of the day an exciting boat race between Fred and Bertie Neild was won by the former. To make the contest more thrilling the boats had been filled with girls, and Mr. Neild claims that he lost because he had the heavier load.

Supper was served on the campus plaza, and was fully enjoyed. After supper there was more boating, and after the party assembled again on the popular songs. Mr. Gow accompanied with his violin. The trip home was made early in the evening, and Mr. and Mrs. Gow were the recipients of many congratulations.

Next Wednesday the Ladies' Aid society will have an outing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Woodcock.

the square will be made at 10.15. A ladies of the church are invited to a lend. A basket luncheon will be served. Next Saturday the Young People's society will hold a lawn party at North Billerica.

THE LATE CYRUS W. IRISH

To the citizens of Lowell in general, but particularly to the many thousands of graduates who passed from the high school during the last thirty years, the sudden death of Principal Cyrus W. Irish will bring heartfelt sorrow. Earnestly devoted to his professional duties and the advancement of those under his care, he displayed at all times an evenness of temper and a spirit of fairness combined with firmness in the discharge of his various obligations, that made him an ideal executive for the great school over which he presided with signal success. The death of Mr. Irish is a great loss to the school system of the city to which he had given his brilliant talents and his energy with such unselfish devotion.

DANGEROUS CARTRIDGES

It is somewhat surprising to find so many cartridges in the hands of children. They did not buy them. Neither did they get them from militia men in training. Where then did they get them? There is but one answer. They got them from relatives who work in the cartridge factories and who think it is no harm to put a few cartridges in their pockets now and then, just to show what is being done at the shop. They should remember that they are stealing what they are paid for making. That is an offense. But worse still is the act of handing them over to children. This business should be stopped.

DISLOYAL CRITICS

There is still a tendency in some quarters to keep up the party criticism of Secretaries Daniels and Baker of the navy and war department respectively. These men whether for better or worse are now in office and inasmuch as the president has not seen fit to remove them, there is presumptive evidence that they are safe men to keep in their present positions. Nothing can cause them to be removed except a popular outburst of indignation over some expensive blunder. Let us hope no such blunder will occur, and let it be understood that while these men are faithfully performing their onerous duties, it is base disloyalty to assail them as if they were our enemies. Let that species of criticism stop. These men are studying every phase of their duties; they carry a heavy responsibility and to criticize them without cause, spreads distrust of the government.

We notice with some satisfaction that the critics have ceased to pour out their wrath against President Wilson. He has so far transcended the expectations even of his own party that he stands beyond reach of the malicious shafts of the critic. While Daniels and Baker may not have equal freedom from attack, it is only the critic of German proclivities who will persist in attacking them without cause. Just at present it is plain that both Daniels and Baker are giving a mighty good account of themselves.

There are certain organs, however, which before the war were regarded as in the service of the German propaganda and which are now fighting the battle of Germany by opposing and denouncing one of the countries with which she is at war and one that is fighting on the side of the United States. This is but an indirect method of opposing the United States.

BANISHING THE SPIES

The government will do well if it breaks up the German spy system in this country, but we doubt whether it is possible to do this in less than a year. The German propaganda had its agents in every large city in the country, including Lowell, and it had its orators in every state denouncing Germany's enemies and opposing every sentiment in favor of our entrance to the war. The same organization had special newspapers that devoted practically all their space to its business, while honest, unsuspecting people thought all these orators and all these special organs were merely voicing their convictions and stating gospel truth when they were imposing upon the masses with infamous lies.

The spy system was equally extensive and may be so still; but some of the chief leaders have been sent out of the country. The government wisely decides to banish some more of them. It will be necessary also to censor all cable and wireless messages from this country as in code messages Germany may be notified of important events under our very nose without our knowing it. Cable messages to points in Europe from which they can be transmitted to Germany must be literally translated and made safe for the United States.

CREEK'S ELABORATION

The gentlemen of naval and military circles in Washington are much excited over the admission of George Creel that he "elaborated" on the dispatches of Rear Admiral Gleaves regarding the attack of submarines in crossing the Atlantic. There is nothing strange in Mr. Creel's admission. He has been trained as a newspaper man and when he received a cryptogram cablegram, he simply dressed it up so as to make it intelligible to the public and to make good reading.

The cables usually give stories in skeleton form and it devolves upon such men as George Creel by "elaboration" to make them presentable.

FITZ AND CURLEY

That is a pretty serious charge which former Mayor Fitzgerald makes against Mayor Curley of Boston for having expressed his intention of granting another permit to the socialists to hold an anti-war demonstration on Boston common. It is quite probable that any attempt by the socialists, anarchists and others of their ilk to hold such a demonstration would provoke another riot. No such meeting should be tolerated. Should Mayor Curley allow it under any pretence, he will be assuming a serious responsibility.

KEEN INTEREST IN WAR NEWS

The war news will have a much greater interest for all of us when our American soldiers under General Pershing will have taken over a part of the western battlefield. It will be their first experience in real trench or underground warfare, but it is difficult to say how long they will have to keep it up. But whether the time be long or short, we will stay in the light until it ends in the overthrow of German autocracy.

PATRIOTIC DOCTORS

The doctors in Ohio have given a fine example of patriotism in offering to divide their fees with the doctors who go to the front. Suppose Dr. Smith goes to the front, any physician who is called to one of his patients in his absence, will hand over to him or his family half the fee. That shows not only a spirit of patriotism at this time but also a spirit of true professional fraternity.

The mayor of Elizabeth, N. J., one George Bertram Woodruff, has incurred the displeasure of his friends by refusing to accept an American flag because the gentleman who made the presentation speech denounced the Kaiser. Although Mayor Woodruff has a high sounding American name he was born in Austria and apparently is not opposed to the Kaiser's designs upon his native land. He is one of the men whom Roosevelt justly dubs as straddling traitors.

Digby Bell, the comedian, who passed away recently, led the actors' division in the preparedness parade in New York. As they approached one of the

Therein Lay Danger

A new arrival at a certain boarding house was a man who had taken part in a famous Arctic exploration, and at dinner time he often regaled the other boarders with stories of his adventures.

"Yes," he said, after one particularly thrilling description, "we were slowly starving to death. Just when things were at the last gasp one fellow had an idea: he cut up our boots and made soup of them, and—"

"Hush, hush!" hissed all the other boarders anxiously. "Don't let the landlord hear you!"—Houston Post.

Heard From the Boy

"What do you hear from the boy?" is the daily greeting nowadays in Fall River in place of the formerly popular "it's a nice day." I suppose you get the point. Be sure that your proud father and mother, sister and brother and others hear from you good and plenty. You are the chief subject of conversation these days. See to it that the conversation doesn't lag.

By the way, one fellow who is in Europe doing his bit for Fall River, numbers all his letters as "he writes and sends them. By this method his family knows whether it is getting all that he writes. It saves anxiety all around.—Fall River News.

Blocking the Sidewalk

One of the evils which may be due partly, at any rate, to the Lowell-Lawrence junction is the blocking of the sidewalk at Bridge and Palace streets. People coming into the square from Centralville at times have to push their way through a solid embankment of individuals who stand at the Palace street crossing waiting either for a trolley or one of the electric cars which are coming from the crossing of the Palace streets. The presence of a police box at the junction of the two streets does not seem to have the least significance so far as the bystanders are concerned. Perhaps a little hint from the officers on duty at this point would be the best remedy for the evil.

His Order on Ham

A well known business man, who is inclined to be a trifle facetious at times in his dealings, got a little reverse

English on one of his offhand remarks the other day while in a local market. He entered, exchanged greetings with the clerk who came to take his order, and asked for some sliced boiled ham. The clerk asked how much he wished and the customer replied in an offhand way: "Well, just keep on slicing and I'll tell you when to stop."

The clerk started slicing the ham thin. Just then a friend of the customer chanced to pass the market and accosted him, and the man about whom this tale is written stepped to the door and began discussing politics or automobiles or the war, and forgot what he had ordered until, when the friend had passed along, he turned around and perceived the clerk still slicing ham, with a young mountain already carved up and more coming every minute.

"Then the customer got excited and asked the clerk what he was slicing so much ham for."

"For you, sir," was the reply. "You thought to keep slicing till you told me to stop."

The customer was game, he paid around $2.50 for his order of ham, took home and ate ham for quite a few days. He hasn't had the temerity to order ham since in any form.

FOUR DROWNED WHEN LAUNCH OVERTURNED

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 8.—A summer tragedy which cost four lives occurred at 5.30 last evening when an 18-foot power boat belonging to Frank Baldwin of this city and containing 12 young people was overturned in the Winooski river, the launch striking a high concrete wall.

The dead are: Mary Hotricher, 19; her sister, Edith, 21; their brother, May, 27; and Frank Baldwin, owner of the boat. All the bodies were recovered, with the exception of that of Max Hotricher.

The most coherent account of the tragedy that could be obtained last night is that the party of 12 were making a dash for the shore, on Lake Champlain, after a day's outing, and that when the launch was turning the great bend in the river above the Hines bridge, it struck a floating tree or stump. The collision was not sufficient to overturn the craft, but some of the party became startled and jumped to the bridge, it struck a floating tree or stump. One Reason Why Glacier National Park is Delightful for Summer Tourists

It's all very well to talk about the grandeur of mountain scenery, and the interesting wonders of a country, but unless one's creature comforts are well looked after, many of us properly are a bit "shy."

Now, one great attraction of "Glacier" as a vacation spot lies in the attention given there to your requirements. You can live at mammoth mountain inns as comfortable and fine as can be found anywhere, or at one of the numerous "Swiss Chalets," equally comfortable but smaller and very picturesque. And if you want to be close to nature, you can live in a well equipped tepee camp.

But the point is that, whichever you select, you will find the trip thoroughly well done, and this applies also to guides, saddle horses, and all that goes with service.

The United States Government sees to this, for it makes and directly controls the concessions.

Call, phone or write and let me send you our illustrated booklet—worth reading even if you don't go. Let me help arrange for your trip. I am at your service—always.

Women Everywhere Use Lemon Juice To Beautify Skin

The beauty lotion which is becoming so popular throughout the country is easily prepared by anyone, and a whole quarter pint of it doesn't cost any more than a small jar of the common, ordinary cold cream.

Add the juice of two fresh lemons to three ounces of orchard white and shake well in a bottle. Strain the lemon juice two or three times through a fine cloth so no pulp gets into the lotion, then it will keep clear for months. Regardless of what price you pay or how highly advertised, there is nothing else really more meritorious in beautifying, softening and clearing the skin. As a tan and blemish remover, also to remove oiliness and sallowness, lemon juice has no rival. Massage it into the face, neck, and arms once or twice each day, and just see if it doesn't bring out the roses and hidden beauty!

Lemons have always been used to bleach the skin, pure lemon juice is too highly acid, therefore should never be used except in this manner.

If properly prepared, this sweetly fragrant lotion will appear for itself. Any drug store will supply the three ounces of orchard white at very little cost, and the grocer will supply the lemons.

The remainder, most of whom could swim, struggling in the river.

A fisherman near the scene in a boat and a farmer, who also rowed to the spot, rescued eight persons, but the Hotrichers and Baldwin, all of whom could swim, were never seen alive after the accident.

The condition of the bodies recovered indicated that the victims had been caught in the heavy river grass. The river at the point where the catastrophe occurred is narrow and the water not very deep.

ONE U.S. BATTALION NOW BEHIND FIRING LINE

PARIS, July 8.—Maj. Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, spent yesterday conferring with his staff concerning plans for the permanent training camp in France and American participation at the fighting front. The permanent camp already has been established and one battalion is undergoing intensive training. It is expected that the remainder of the American expeditionary force will be in camp behind the fighting line within a week.

Gen. Pershing expected to confer this afternoon with Field Marshal Douglas Haig, the British commander, but because of the pressure of other business he was compelled to send a member of his staff to British headquarters. General Pershing will visit Field Marshal Haig later.

COBENHAGEN, July 8.—Vienna dispatches say that disorders on a large scale have broken out in the Moravian fields on account of food conditions.

WILL ASK HALF BILLION MORE FOR SHIPS

WASHINGTON, July 9.—An appropriation of half a billion dollars for shipbuilding probably will be asked of congress immediately by the administration. Contracts already let and about to be closed, the shipping board announced last night, have absorbed the first $500,000,000.

President Wilson's approval for the program is yet to be obtained, but it is understood the president is in full sympathy with officials who believe the allies cannot win the war unless every resource is used to construct a great fleet of American merchant ships.

First estimates of $500,000,000 for construction within 18 months will be far exceeded, it was learned last night, if the plans of the shipping board and the Gen. Goethals, manager of the board's emergency fleet corporation, are carried out.

The present aim is to build at least 5,000,000 tons dead weight of shipping in addition to vessels already under construction for private account, which will be taken over by the government.

Announcement of the intention to ask for a second appropriation was contained in a statement issued last night by Chairman Denham of the shipping board, which carried the intimation that the second sum may be used largely for wooden construction.

AMSTERDAM, July 8.—A frontier correspondent of the Handelsblad says that five persons were killed and several houses were destroyed during the bombardment of the German city of Essen, home of the great Krupp works, on Friday night. A correspondent of the Telegram says that bombs were dropped on the Krupp works and that reports of damage inflicted were conflicting. Estimates of the number of attackers vary between 15 and 40.

The official French statement of Saturday night said one French airplane raided Essen, dropping bombs on the Krupp factory.

A semi-official German statement, received here from Munster, Westphalia, says:

"Enemy airplanes visited the industrial districts, dropping eight bombs and causing damage to the extent of 2000 marks. No industrial works were hit and there were no casualties."

Germany Admits Loss of Plane

BERLIN, via London, July 9 (British Admiralty, per Wireless).—One German airplane was lost in yesterday's raid on London and a British plane was shot down over the city, it is announced officially.

The announcement also says no military damage was done by the aerial attacks of Friday night on German towns. The statement follows:

On Friday night, in addition to bomb dropping near the front, there were encounters in German territory. Enemy aviators dropped more than the incendiary bombs in the Westphalian industrial region on Treves and the neighborhood and also in Mannheim, Ludwigsafen and Podelben. No military damage was caused. No enemy airplane fell into our hands.

On the morning of July 7, one of our aviator squadrons attacked London. At 11 o'clock in the morning, bombs were dropped freely on docks, harbor works and warehouses on the Thames. Fires and explosions were observed. One British airplane was shot down over London. Bombs were dropped at Margate on the east coast of England. Our airplanes all returned except one, which was compelled to make a descent

FIVE KILLED IN AIR RAID ON ESSEN

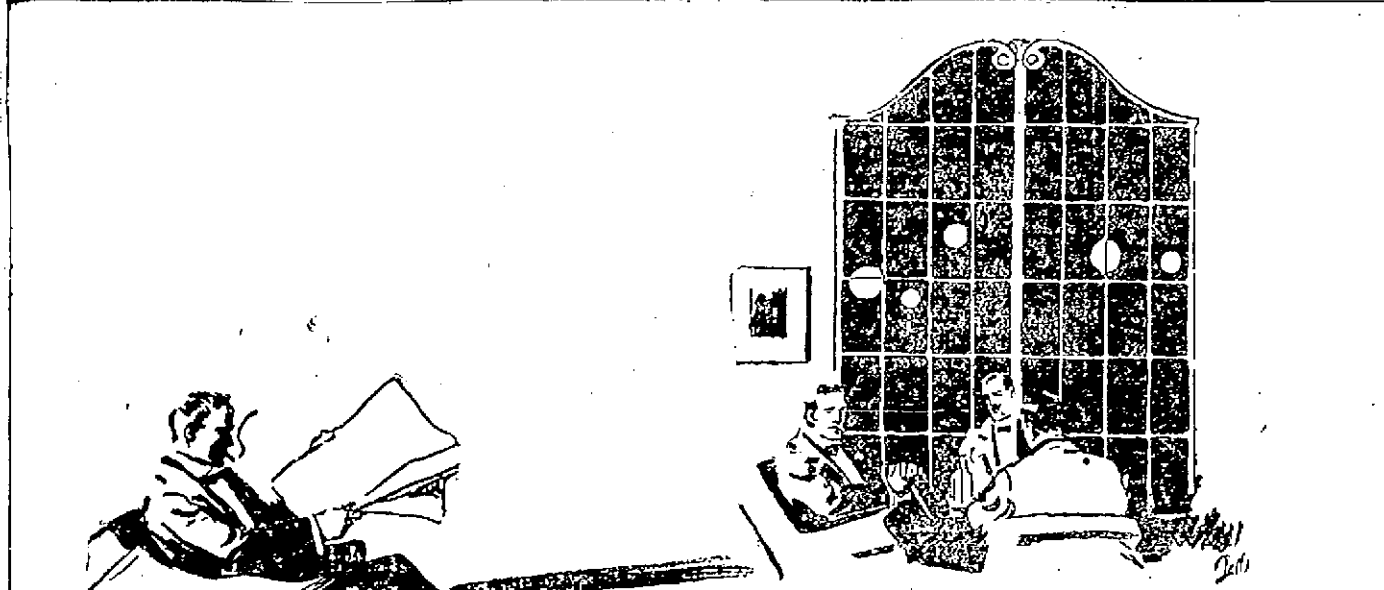

THE MACHINERY OF THE BODY

(By Dr. I. W. SHORT)

The body is a highly organized machine of complicated parts in which the liver and the kidneys work for the common good. Damage to either one of these organs interferes with man as a motor mechanism. The automobile expert knows how important it is that the carburetor does not get too much fuel, along with sufficient air to burn or explode the gas. Too much fuel in man's machine such as eating too much meat, or alcohol or tea, and the liver cannot "turn over," nervous overwork and lack of exercise in outdoor air bring constipation and bad health. Fat less meat, plenty of vegetables, and with air and good exercise you need little else. If the liver needs rousing—and most of us need this once a week—take a safe vegetable extract of the leaves of aloe, May-apple, root of jalap made into a tiny sugar-coated pill, and sold by almost every druggist as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—first put up nearly fifty years ago.

Most people die eventually of an over-acid condition, if the blood can be rendered more alkaline, the longer we live. With regular hours, plenty of water between meals, sensible coarse food and a chance to get the poisons out of the system, a man will live to be a hundred. But unfortunately our highly nervous way of living brings increased storage of uric acid in the body. This acts as a poison, and we suffer from lumbago, aches or pains, rheumatism, gout.

Get rid of this uric acid poison by taking a harmless medicine called Anuric, which throws out the uric acid by stimulating the kidneys. Drink a pint of hot water before meals, and take Anuric (double strength) three or four times a day. Anuric can be obtained at almost any drug store.

JUNIOR LEAGUE HOLDS STAGE

This is the Big Week of Boston's Free Harness Racing
Bay State at Northampton —Great Days for Read-ville

BOSTON, July 9.—This is the week of Boston's great free harness racing meeting, the Metropolitan Driving Club putting on the annual spectacle of the Junior League of Amateur Driving clubs, over the half-mile track along the side of the Charles river speedway in Brighton.

The track matinee performers of Greater Boston, with many sent here from distant points, will battle on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, with six or more events on each day's program.

Never before have so many horses been quartered all around the speedway, and they are all there to be raced, the noncompetitors having been sent away for a week's layoff. There have been a few "outs" in the past, but nothing to approach what is to be offered this week, and the big show is absolutely guaranteed to the public.

The thorough horsemen will find the track races on Wednesday of the most interest, for among the youngsters last year's champion, the first place winner, will be prominently in the professional end of the sport. These youngsters, as a whole, are a pretty nice lot and it will take a top-notch colt to get away with the silver trophy in each of the three races.

Koroni, the race-winning, half-mile trotter, owned by Jack R. Williams, will be on Bronson, James W. and Country Tramp on Wednesday and then on Friday will try a different field in the 2:14 trot.

Bay State Shift to Northampton
Northampton has the Bay State circuit, and the shift to Northampton is a move to some high-grade sport. The three meetings held here provided an interesting racing at New England has ever known at this season of the year, with a support from the public that has been most satisfactory.

The Bay State circuit has a three-day meet, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The entry is such that large fields are expected. The free-for-all will be a bunch that furnished the thrills at Windsor, with Possibility and Major Woolworth added.

The class arrangement at Northampton is as follows: 2:17 trot, closed; 2:21 pace, Thursday; 2:16 pace, 2:30 trot, 2:18 pace, Saturday, free-for-all, 2:14 trot, 2:19 trot.

Readville to Come Back to Its Own
That the Readville track has passed into the ownership of a syndicate headed by J. McDonald is a fact that has been handed out in a long time. While the new owners have announced no plans to close the track, it is a fact that the famous two-minute track will again be the battleground of the Grand circuit cracks.

The management of Boston's Bay State circuit meet, to be held at Northampton park week after next, will add an extra day to the advertised program by the addition of a free-for-all race in the early-closing events or cannot be looked after in the classes that close on Thursday.

The combination card as now fixed is: Tuesday, July 24, 2:13 pace, closed; 2:30 trot, closed; 2:23 trot, open; Wednesday, July 25, 2:16 pace, closed; 2:21 trot, closed; 2:17 trot, open; 2:18 pace open; Thursday, July 26, free-for-all, closed; 2:19 trot, closed; 2:30 trot, amateur drivers, open; 2-year-old, free-for-all, closed; 2:14 trot, open; 2:15 pace open; and in the 2-year-old and amateur trot, where $300 is offered.

SOUTH ENDS PUT IT ALL OVER THE KIMBALLS

The large number of fans that went to the South common Saturday afternoon expecting to see a good ball game were greatly disappointed, for the exhibition was one of the poorest seen on the common for many years. The game was between Pitts' South Ends and the Kimballs, and the former won by the score of 11 to 3. The defeated team gave one of the worst exhibitions of the national game that the writer has ever seen. Not only did their pitcher go bad, but the other men on the team threw the ball around the lot like a kangaroo that never handled an "apple" before. Ryan started to pitch and he lasted just long enough to allow three hits and his teammates made two errors, and the South Ends scored four runs. This was enough for Ryan, and also for a good number of the fans. The manager of the Kimballs took the interest out of the exhibition. Poulton went behind him, heaved the ball all over the lot, and the outfielders, when a ball got by them, walked after it. He did not put forth his best efforts. The remainder of the game proved to be a regular comedy, changes in the lineup and errors, such as such monotonous regularity that it would take a wizard to tabulate all. However, the writer watching faster than a bullet, before a ball was hit, was able to see 12 errors by the Kimballs and as these almost filled the space allowed in the scorebook he let a few get by. One result of the South Ends' good batting practice. Needless to say they took advantage of the opportunity and gave the Kimballs an awful beating. Poulton, who was the batting king of the afternoon, getting four good wallops during the game. One thing in favor of the Kimballs was that they could hit, as they collected as many hits as their opponents. B. Hammer and Neal each made three hits. But most of the Kimballs' hitting was wasted, for the South Ends' pitcher, Poulton, hit safely, but not a run was scored. As a result of Saturday's performance, it looks as if the Kimballs are completely eliminated as contenders for the city's championship.

BROADWAY CLUB TRIMS
LAWRENCE TEAM

The Broadway club defeated the Hutchinsons of Lawrence by a score of 1 to 3 on the North common Saturday afternoon. Neither side scored during the first four innings, but in the fifth the Broadwayers started the hitting fest and scored seven runs and followed with seven more in the next two innings. The winning aggregation tapped the visiting pitchers for 16 hits. McCarthy pitched a good game for the winners while Gaudette and Lucy took turns on the mound for the visitors.

MRS. POMERLEAU WAS BADLY INJURED

Mrs. Aurora Pomerleau of Nutting's Pond park, Billerica, had a narrow escape from being killed at the junction of Moody and Cabot streets yesterday morning when the motorcar in which she was riding crashed through the window of Joseph Dunn's cloak store. The ambulance was summoned and she was taken to St. John's hospital, where it was found she was suffering from a fracture of the right forearm and had lacerations of the head.

Mrs. Pomerleau's husband was driving the machine and she occupied a seat in the side car. They were traveling through the motorcar on which was about 16 or 18 miles an hour and upon reaching Cabot street another vehicle came through the street and in an attempt to avoid a collision Pomerleau turned to the right and the motorcar crashed into the plate glass window.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Another step in building up the selective conscription army was taken yesterday by the distribution of a circular by Provost Marshal-General Crowder, notifying the registered men to hold themselves in readiness for appearance before the boards which will conduct examinations and consider exemptions.

How or when the government will select the men to be examined is detailed in the circular, but it is revealed that registration cards in each county or city jurisdiction are to be numbered in red ink and that as soon as the drawing is complete, lists showing the order in which these red ink numbers are drawn will be published in the press and will be posted at the office of each local board.

It has already been announced that the selection will take place in Washington, D. C.

PRES. WILSON ORDERS EXPORT EMBARGO

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Government control of American exports, authorized in a provision of the espionage act, was ordered put into operation July 9, by President Wilson last night with the issuance of a proclamation putting under embargo shipments to all countries of the most important export commodities.

A statement accompanying the proclamation the president declared the government's policy will be first, to give consideration to American needs; next, to meet as far as possible the requirements of the allies, and last, to supply neutral countries wherever practicable.

It is made clear that every effort will be made to see that no supplies reach the central powers.

Food Embargo Possible

The commodities named in the list put under control are coal, coke, fuel oils, kerosene and gasoline, including bunkers; food grains, flour and meal, fodder and feeds, meats and fat, pig iron, steel billets, ship plates and structural shapes, scrap iron and scrap steel, ferro-manganese, fertilizers, arms, ammunition and explosives.

The inclusion of foodstuffs in the proclamation lends statements that the administration is considering the advisability of a complete embargo for 60 days on all food shipments to give the enemy time to ascertain the amount of its supplies and to give allies and neutral countries an opportunity to present a full program of their requirements.

Firm Grasp on Shipping

The president, in his statement, says the government is trying first to annihilate present food conditions and control that are expected to arise between now and the next harvest.

Many officials, alarmed at the wheat shortage and the heavy drain the allies and neutrals are making on every kind of American food supplies, are urging an immediate embargo on food shipments.

Tough control of coal and fuels the government intends to take a firm grasp on shipping. An arrangement under negotiation will give the American and British governments control not only of allied tonnage, but of neutral vessels as well. Ships now on runs not regarded as necessary to a successful conduct of the war will be forced into trades considered more essential, and vessels now held in port through fear of submarine attack will be required to go into service.

Pressure on Japan

Control of iron and steel was made necessary by war demands on the iron and steel industries. A shortage of steel in this country is threatened because of the large amount that is being diverted to munitions manufacture and the construction of the government's merchant fleet.

Japan's heavy purchases of steel plates for merchant shipbuilding made necessary that plates be put under control. At the same time this action gives the government a weapon with which to force Japanese tonnage into the trans-Atlantic trades.

Specific regulations governing food exports and shipments of other commodities named in today's list are expected to be issued by the president within a few days.

Even if a complete embargo is not placed on food exports for a time, it is known many restrictions will be made. The export council comprising three cabinet members and the food administrator, is drawing up a program to be submitted to the president immediately.

One argument advanced by advocates of a complete embargo on food shipments is that the neutral countries and the allies have presented entirely different statements regarding the amount of food stuffs going from the neutral countries into Germany. It is argued also that the neutrals cannot be treated all alike, as varying conditions obtain in Holland and in the Scandinavian countries. The president declares in his statement that this government has no desire to do any injustice to neutral countries, and intends to co-operate with them in adding to their necessary supplies.

Text of the Proclamation

The president's proclamation, after quoting the law empowering the government to take control of exports, says:

"I hereby proclaim to all whom it may concern that, except at such times or times and under such regulations and orders and subject to such limitations ordered by the president or by congress, the following articles, namely: Coal, coke, fuel oils, kerosene and gasoline, including bunkers; food grains, flour and meal; fodder and feeds, meats and fat; pig iron, steel billets, ship plates and structural shapes, scrap iron and scrap steel; ferro-manganese; fertilizers; arms, ammunition and explosives, shall not, on and after the 16th day of July, 1917, be carried out of or exported from the United States or its territorial possessions to Abyssinia, Afghanistan, Albania, Argentina, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Bolivia, Brazil, Bulgaria, Chile, China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Denmark, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Dominion Republic, Ecuador, Egypt, France, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Germany, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Great Britain, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Italy, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Japan, Liberia, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Mexico, Monaco, Montenegro, Morocco, Nepal, Nicaragua, the Netherlands, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Norway, Oman, Panama, Paraguay,

Perse, Peru, Portugal, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Rumania, Russia, Salvador, San Marino, Serbia, Spain, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Sweden, Switzerland, Uruguay, Venezuela, or Turkey.

To Be Administered by Redfield

"The orders and regulations from time to time prescribed will be administered by and under the authority of the secretary of commerce, from whom licenses, in conformity of the said orders and regulations, will issue.

"It is concluded by license the export of certain indispensable commodities from the United States, the government has first and chiefly in view the amelioration of the dire conditions which have arisen or are likely to arise in our own country before our crops are harvested.

"Not only is the conservation of our prime food and fodder supplies a matter which vitally concerns our own people, but the retention of an adequate supply of raw materials is essential to our program of military and naval construction and the continuance of our necessary domestic activities. We shall, therefore, similarly safeguard all our fundamental supplies.

Duty to Allies and Neutrals

"It is obviously the duty of the United States in liberating any surplus products over and above our own domestic needs to consider first the necessities of all the nations engaged in war against the central empire.

"As to neutral nations, however, we also recognize our duty. The government does not wish to hamper them. On the contrary, it wishes and intends by all fair and equitable means to co-operate with them in their difficult task of adding from our available surpluses to their own domestic supply and of meeting their pressing necessities or deficits.

"In consideration of the deficits of food supplies, the government means only to fulfill its obvious obligation to assure itself that neutrals are handling their own resources and that our supplies will not become available, either directly or indirectly, to feed the enemy."

How to Obtain Licenses

The method of procedure in obtaining licenses for export was outlined last night at Sea. Redfield, who will administer the act, as follows:

"First, applications for licenses may be made to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, division of export licenses, 115 K street, Washington, D. C., or to any of the branches of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce—New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, San Francisco and Seattle.

"Second, in applying for a license to export any of the commodities covered by the president's proclamation, applicants should give the following information in triplicate form: (a) quantity, (b) description of goods, (c) name and address of consignee, (d) name and address of consignor.

"Third, the license will be good for only 60 days and at the expiration of that time must be renewed, and it not renewed within that time a new application must be made.

"Fourth, the various branch offices of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce have been given full instructions as to the disposition of applications for licenses."

NOTICE TO SICK WOMEN

Positive Proof That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves Suffering.

Bridgeton, N.J.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for inflammation and other weaknesses. I was very irregular and would have terrible pains so that I could hardly take a step. Sometimes I would be so miserable that I could not sweep a room. I doctored part of the time but felt no change. I later took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt a change for the better. I took it until I was in good healthy condition. I recommend the Pinkham remedies to all women as I have used them with such good results."—Mrs. MILDRED T. CUMMINGS, 322 Harmony St., Penn's Grove, N. J.

This testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence of the excellence of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the distressing ills of women such as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, backache, painful periods, nervousness and kindred ailments.
